Quick and Easy Start-up

Implementing a new software package to run your business can be overwhelming, time-consuming and costly. Hi-Tech Health's Claims Administration System is the exception to that rule. The staff of Hi-Tech Health will analyze your needs, customize the system and then train your staff quickly and cost-effectively.

While some claims systems require a large upfront investment in hardware, the Series 3000 requires only a pc workstation and a software license to get started. By keeping start-up costs to a minimum, customers of Hi-Tech Health have shown increases in profitability immediately. Whatever your resources, Hi-Tech Health will work with you to develop a hardware and software combination for purchase or lease that is within your budget.

User Friendly

The Series 3000 Claims Administration System was designed to simplify and support the administration of health claims. Our menu-driven screens allow you to enter, track and pay claims quickly and easily using preloaded system variables and simple command keys. Once the claim is entered, the system is fully automated, thereby reducing the chances of human error along the way.

Processing the claim, however, is only one part of the equation. Communication of claims status is just as important. With the Series 3000, employees and employers can check claim status 24-hours a day and receive real-time data through a secure website or via a toll free automated phone system. Documents can be printed directly off of the website or received via fax on demand through the phone system for instantaneous delivery of eligibility information, benefit summaries and claim status.

Through implementation of Hi-Tech Health's 24-hour website and automated phone system, our software has successfully helped our customers reduce incoming service calls, thereby increasing the amount of time your personnel has to process claims so that each employee can handle a larger volume of work without incurring additional overhead costs.

Customization

Hi-Tech Health's Series 3000 Software boasts unlimited potential when it comes to customizing forms, reports, letters, invoices, ID cards and COBRA coupons. These customized forms allow your organization to stand apart from the competition and create a consistent and professional image in the marketplace.

Once the claims data has been entered into your system, be it manually, through EDI or scanning, it can be accessed to generate reports, letters or forms in any format you specify on demand, regardless of whether it's for the company, the claimant or for your own internal review.

Global Reach

With customers all over the globe and unlimited customization capabilities, Hi-Tech Health's Series 3000 Claims Administration System can efficiently handle claims received from all over the world. One of our systems newest features includes the conversion of foreign currency either to or from US Dollars at the touch of a button. No more time consuming manual conversions are required to ensure the accurate payment of foreign claims. Exchange rates are updated daily.

The "As You Grow, We Grow" Approach

At Hi-Tech Health, we believe in a team approach. Our dedicated employees will work with you one on one to provide innovative technological solutions to all your claims processing needs, regardless of the size of your company. Our Per-Employee Per-Month fee structure is designed so that as your business grows, the volume of business we do together grows. That's how sure we are that our software system will allow you to sign on new pieces of business you would have otherwise only dreamed of pursuing.
